OAUG News Release

Oracle Applications Users Group Hosts OAUG Connection Point® - Release 12.1 Conference

- Helps Oracle users gain insight through high impact education and networking -

ATLANTA – June 27, 2011 - The Oracle Applications Users Group \(OAUG\), the world's largest user knowledgebase for Oracle® Applications users, co-hosts the OAUG Connection Point® - Release 12.1 conference, in partnership with the North Central OAUG (NCOAUG) and the OAUG Upgrade SIG, July 12-13 at the Westin Chicago Northwest.

The two-day regional event is designed to help attendees implement or migrate to the Oracle E-Business Suite 12.1. With more than 50 educational sessions and keynotes divided among six key tracks, topics covered include how to find and deal with customizations or extensions, training recommendations, best practices in functional and technical testing, and understanding new features for both the Oracle E-Business Suite 12.1 applications and the new Oracle Database 11g Release 2.

Special keynote presentations include “Oracle E-Business Suite Applications Strategy and General Manager Update” delivered by Cliff Godwin, senior vice president of Applications Development at Oracle; “R12: Modern Medicine For Your Company’s Long-Term Wellness” delivered by Greg Roush, vice president of E-Business Solutions at CSS; “Implementing and Upgrading Oracle Applications Using the Oracle Unified Method (OUM)” delivered by Tom Spitz, vice president of Oracle; and “R12- Is it OMG or LOL?” delivered by Andy Donovan vice president of sales at EIS Technologies.

There will also be several panels and case studies centered around implementation and upgrade lessons learned. Attendees also have the chance to meet one-on-one with Oracle experts to ask questions related to their own Oracle E-Business Suite 12.1 efforts.

“The conference offers an opportunity for those who plan on implementing or upgrading to hear case studies by companies that are using Oracle E-Business Suite 12.1 and to learn about best practices regarding project management, Release 12.1

application and database tuning, security, and discovering the optimal path to Release 12.1,” said Mark Clark, president of the OAUG.
