Oracle Applications Users Group Hosts OAUG Connection Point® EPM-BI Conference

ATLANTA – July 6, 2011 - The Oracle Applications Users Group \(OAUG\), the world's largest user knowledgebase for Oracle® Applications users, co-hosts the OAUG Connection Point® EPM-BI conference, in partnership with the Northwest Oracle Users Group (NWOUG), the OAUG Hyperion Special Interest Group \(SIG\) and the OAUG BI SIG, July 20-21, at the Hyatt Regency Bellevue in Seattle.

This in-depth, two-day regional forum covers Oracle enterprise performance management (EPM) applications, Oracle Hyperion and Oracle Business Intelligence (BI). With more than 40 sessions divided among five key tracks, the educational content features customer success stories, partner tips and best practice, and timely presentations from Oracle executives on better leveraging current and prospective investments across all of the Oracle BI and EPM applications and tools.

Keynote presentations include “Implementing EPM/BI Solutions using the Oracle Unified Method (OUM)” delivered by Tom Spitz, vice president of Global Methods at Oracle; “Oracle Hyperion/EPM Roadmap” delivered by Hari Sankar, vice president of Product Management for EPM applications at Oracle; and “Oracle Business Intelligence – Be the First to Know” delivered by Tobin Gilman, vice president of Product Marketing for Business Intelligence and Performance Management at Oracle.

Attendees also have the chance to meet one-on-one with Oracle experts to get questions answered straight from the source on timely issues and future directions.

“This highly focused event offers attendees the chance to further their capabilities in the fast-moving EPM space and to gain insight from peers and experts through networking and focused educational sessions,” said Mark Clark, president of the OAUG.
